"I am grateful for the opportunity to serve on the Board of Trustees for PBS Reno," said Kanute. "Public Television entertained my curiosity and played a role in my early education. Through shows like 'Sesame Street,' 'Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego,' 'Reading Rainbow,' and 'Ghostwriter,' my imagination soared and great habits, like regular reading, were built. I am excited to now do my part with PBS Reno to bring these learning opportunities to our communities and our kids."

Kanute's practice is concentrated on the preservation of creditor's rights, where he represents clients in Bankruptcy Court, State Court and Federal District Court. His experience ranges from representing creditors in bankruptcy matters, to state and federal court litigation actions.
