SNELL & WILMER PARTNER RICHARD MALLERY ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT AFTER NEARLY 60 YEARS AT THE FIRM

PHOENIX (December 29, 2022) – Snell & Wilmer attorney Richard Mallery has announced he will retire from the practice of law and the firm, effective December 31, 2022.

“Over the past 58 years, Dick has been a tremendous contributor to our firm and to our community,” said firm chair, Matt Feeney. “He’s an excellent lawyer and has served as a mentor to countless Snell & Wilmer attorneys. We wish him the best on this milestone in his distinguished career and know he will remain a friend for years to come.”

Richard Mallery

Mallery has been with Snell & Wilmer for 58 years and concentrated on business, real estate and financial transactions with emphasis on medical and bioscience ventures. He was the driving force in bringing the International Genomics Consortium and the Translational Genomics Research Institute to Phoenix. He is a founding chair and CEO of The International Genomics Consortium. He serves as a life member for New York City, council on foreign relations and is on the advisory board for The National Foundation for Cancer research, Bethesda. Mallery is heavily involved in Arizona and is a founding member of Greater Phoenix Leadership (Phoenix 40) and Flinn Foundation.

“Dick is an exceptional change-maker, community leader, and trusted advisor to whom I’ll always be grateful for his mentorship and friendship. His example of community and client service has left a lasting imprint on the culture of Snell & Wilmer that is part of his professional legacy,” said partner Joyce Wright.

“It is hard to measure the significance of the impact that Dick Mallery has had, not just to Snell & Wilmer but to the broader Arizona community. Dick has been a true community leader in advancing not just the legal practice but business, arts, health care and technology in Arizona. We’re fortunate to enjoy the fruits of the many years of labor that Dick has invested into Arizona,” said partner Byron Sarhangian, Co-Chair of the firm’s Real Estate Practice Group and Opportunity Zone Industry Group.
